

The NYS Office of Bilingual Education & World Languages, The NYS Language RBERN at New York University,
AND The New York City RBERN at Fordham University Present

NEW YORK STATE / NEW YORK CITY TEACHER INSTITUTE

CO-TEACHING SEQUEL: COLLABORATION FOR LANGUAGE INSTRUCTION

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

DR. ANDREA HONIGSFELD

MONDAY, JAN 30, 2017 8:30–3:00
FORDHAM UNIVERSITY

FEATURED SPEAKER

LISSETTE COLON COLLINS

NYSED Assistant Commissioner for the Office of Bilingual Education and World Languages

AUDIENCE

ENL teachers working with content area teachers on the co-teaching model, coordinators of ENL programs or administrators supervising ENL programs or NYC DOE personnel supporting schools/districts with INTEGRATED ENL instruction.

Dr. Andrea Honigsfeld has co-authored the book; Collaboration and Co-Teaching. Participants will have the opportunity to work alongside their co-teachers for the Integrated ENL model. This model allows for the expertise of two teachers who can provide quality instruction for INTEGRATED ENL services. This integration of content knowledge assures that learning English in the subject areas is not done in isolation and that language scaffolds are provided. Thus, two teachers work as a team in planning and delivering instruction as a team.
