• Ask your child’s teacher for ways you can help your child succeed.

• Schedule an individual meeting with your child’s teacher to learn about specific ways that you can help your child succeed.

• Keep track of your child’s homework assignments and help them stay organized.

• Help your child with their homework each day, and be sure to provide a quiet and comfortable work environment.

• Enroll your child in a library card program and take them to the library, where they can find books for their school and personal reading.

• Attend your child’s school’s parent-teacher conferences to learn about their progress and any concerns.

• Prepare for school by reading about the new topics and lessons that your child will be learning.
EngageNY.org is a project of the New York State Board of Regents and the New York State Education Department (NYSED). It is funded by Engage NY, the New York State Board of Regents, and the New York State Education Department (NYSED). It is a tool and source for all students to support their teachers in their classrooms.
