Hello everyone!

My name is Renee Jiang and I’m a second year MA student in Media, Culture and Communication. It is such an honor and pleasure for me to serve the Steinhardt community as one of the two Event Coordinators of the GSO. Our mission here is to bring all Steinhardt students together through various academic or leisure events and to enhance their experience while studying at NYU and living in NYC. If you have any good ideas about what interesting events the GSO can bring to everyone, please don’t hesitate to contact us. I hope you are enjoying all the amazing events organized by the GSO!

SCHOLARSHIP HUNT

The Foundation Center

Food Studies Ph.D. candidate Christy Spackman emailed us to tell the world about the Foundation Center. Located here in Manhattan, the Center strives to aid students in research funding. It's like a walk in Scholarship Hunt! Here's what Christy had to say about the Foundation. "To date, I've found the Foundation Center most useful in helping me be aware of the broad range of fellowships I can apply for, and to expand my fellowship search. It can be quite difficult to figure out where to look for funding, the Center offers a nice, easily accessible resource for beginning to think through this problem."
