Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN)

Launch of Thematic Group Reports
Wednesday, September 18, 2013 from 1 – 3pm

James Room (4th Floor), Barnard Hall, Barnard College (West 117th Street and Broadway)

The Sustainable Development Solutions Network (SDSN) will launch reports prepared by its Thematic Groups on sustainable agriculture, sustainable cities, human rights and gender equality, health, education, and good governance of extractive resources. These reports were prepared by international panels of experts to help inform the discussions around a post-2015 development framework. They complement the SDSN’s flagship report “An Action Agenda for Sustainable Development” released in June 2013.

Speakers will include:

- Jeffrey Sachs, Director, Sustainable Development Solutions Network
- Joshua Castellino, Dean, School of Law, Middlesex University
- Bineta Diop, Founder and President, Femmes Africa Solidarité
- Achim Dobermann, Deputy Director General for Research, International Rice Research Institute
- Shahid Naeem, Director, Earth Institute Center for Environmental Sustainability
- Aromar Revi, Director, Indian Institute for Human Settlements
- Cynthia Rosenzweig, Senior Scientist, NASA Goddard Institute for Space Studies
- Hirokazu Yoshikawa, Professor of Globalization and Education, New York University

Since space is limited please register at http://www.earth.columbia.edu/events/view/6681

For further information regarding this event, please contact Bonnie Scarborough at bonnie.scarborough@undsn.org or +1 212-870-2792. More information on the Sustainable Development Solutions Network is available at www.undsn.org.