Join us for a lecture and workshop by Rta Kapur Chishti, hand-woven textile advocate from India & author of Saris: Tradition and Beyond.

Rta Chishti is committed to promoting the history and understanding of the sari, a classic unstitched garment that has been worn by women in India for over 2000 years. Her audio visual lecture will be accompanied by a demonstration workshop to highlight contemporary interpretations of draping the versatile, lyrical sari.

Einstein Auditorium
34 Stuyvesant Street
New York, New York 10003

Lecture and Workshop: 1-5pm
Reception: Indian fare 5-6pm
Free for students with ID. Seating limited.
Register: http://tickets.nyu.edu/

Contact: Nancy Deihl, Director Costume Studies MA Program, nbd2012@nyu.edu or Judith Schwartz, Area Head, Sculpture in Craft Media, judith.schwartz@nyu.edu for additional information.

Sponsors:
NYU Steinhardt Department of Art and Art Professions
Costume Studies M.A. Program