The 2010 International Institute will be held at the University of London, Institute of Education, which has had a close association with Reading Recovery and with Marie Clay, who was awarded a Doctor of Letters as part of the Institute’s centenary celebrations in 2002.

We are delighted to be able to host this event, particularly as it is such an exciting time for Reading Recovery in the UK and Ireland.

Whilst you are here in London, there is a lot to do and see. In the next few weeks look out for information on accommodation, travel from major airports and about places of interest in the area. Individuals will be responsible for booking their own accommodation.

The European RR trainer team is looking forward to welcoming international colleagues to the European Centre for Reading Recovery and we hope to see many of you here for what will be an exciting and stimulating institute.
