The Empty Chair

Let’s envision an ELL who sits in that chair in one of our classrooms. We invite you to write his/her name on a sticker and place the sticker on the chair.

Throughout our workshop, if a different ELL comes to mind, feel free to add his/her name to the chair.

All our work today will focus on making instructional decisions that are in the best interest of the ELL who occupies the empty chair.
Goals for today

• Review of the Common Core Learning Standards
• View the EngageNY website
• Unpack the Bilingual Common Core Home Language Arts Progressions (BCCP HLAs)
• Use the BCCP HLAs Progressions to plan instruction
• Engage in a series of activities using the HLAs
ELA Common Core State Standards
(called Common Core Learning Standards P-12 in NYS)

Adopted by the NYS Board of Regents in January 2011

• Reading for Information – 10 standards
• Reading Literature – 11 standards
• Writing – 11 standards
• Speaking and Listening – 6 standards
• Language – 6 standards
• Foundations of Reading - 4 standards

The CCLS include content area literacy:

• Reading History/Social Studies – 9 standards
• Reading Science – 10 standards
• Writing History/Science – 9 standards
English Language Learners/Multilingual Learners

In New York State, under Part 154 of the Commissioner's Regulations (CR Part 154), ELLs are students who, by reason of foreign birth or ancestry:

- Speak or understand a language other than English
- Speak or understand little or no English
- Require support in order to become proficient in English and are identified pursuant to CR Part 154-2.3

Let’s get ready to learn about the Bilingual Common Core Progressions!

EngageNY Website

Let’s find the Common Core Learning Standards, the Bilingual Common Core Progressions and other wonderful instructional resources.

Call to Action for the BCCP

• ELL academic performance lagged behind their English proficient peers
• The gap between ELLs and English proficient students is greatest in ELA
• In ELA and Math, the performance gap tends to increase between grades 3 and 8
• Public education in the US emphasizes standardized assessments combined with the adoption of the Common Core State Standards
• Population of students in United States schools has grown increasingly diverse in culture and in language
New Terminology

Adopted by the New York State Board of Regents for implementation during the 2013-2014 school year.

New Terminology:

☑ Home Language Arts Progressions: Formerly Native Language Arts Learning Standards

☑ New Language Arts Progressions: Formerly English as a Second Language Learning Standards

Why the change in terminology?
New Language Arts Progressions (ESL/New Language)

Common Core Anchor Standard (RI.1.1): Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.

Common Core Grade 4 Standard (RI.4.1): Refer to details and examples in a text when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text.

Grade Level Academic Demand
- Refer to Text Details to Explain and Draw Inferences

5 Levels of Literacy Development

Entering (Beginner)

- Listening-Centered Activity: Organize preidentified words and phrases on a double column chart to identify what the text says explicitly and draw inferences from the text, as the text is read aloud in partnership and/or small groups.

Emerging (Low Intermediate)

- Listening-Centered Activity: Organize phrases and sentences on a partially completed double column chart to identify what the text says explicitly and draw inferences from the text, as the text is read aloud in partnership, small group and/or whole class settings.

Transitioning (High Intermediate)

- Listening-Centered Activity: Organize information on a double column chart to identify what the text says explicitly and draw inferences from the text, as the text is read aloud in partnership, small group and/or whole class settings.

Expanding (Advanced)

- Listening-Centered Activity: Organize information on a self-created double column chart to identify what the text says explicitly and draw inferences from the text, as the text is read aloud in partnership, small group and/or whole class settings.

Commanding (Proficient)

- Listening-Centered Activity: Organize information, when taking notes independently, to identify what the text says explicitly and draw inferences from the text, as the text is read aloud in partnership, small group and/or whole class settings.

Oracy and Literacy Links

Receptive

- Reading-Centered Activity: Organize preidentified words on an evidence-based graphic organizer to cite textual evidence that supports analysis of a text.

- Reading-Centered Activity: Organize phrases and sentences from a bank on a partially completed evidence-based graphic organizer to cite textual evidence that supports analysis of a text.

- Reading-Centered Activity: Organize information on an evidence-based graphic organizer, after teacher modeling, to cite textual evidence that supports analysis of a text.

- Reading-Centered Activity: Organize information in a note taking guide, independently, to cite textual evidence that supports analysis of a text.
Purpose of the BCCPs

• The BCCP describe language and content scaffolds at each of the five language/literacy development levels: Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding and Commanding AND the four communication modalities: listening and reading (Receptive modalities) AND speaking and writing (Productive modalities).

• The BCCP is a tool, not a curriculum, that enables teachers to differentiate instruction.

• Underlying assumption of the BCCP is that ELLs can reach the same demands described in the CCLS, when appropriate supports and resources are provided.

• The BCCP takes a bilingual stance: supports for students learning English but also, and equally as important, for students developing their home language.
Purpose of the BCCPs

The BCCP...

• Integrate language experience and content knowledge
• Build on the linguistic foundations and background knowledge of ELLs
• Push ELLs toward improved language development in academic settings
Purpose of the BCCPs

• The BCCP contain a model of academic language development that addresses the variable nature of language development.

• Time and care must be provided as ELLs acquire Academic Language (moving from BICs to CALP).

• The five language proficiency levels, Entering, Emerging, Transitioning, Expanding and Commanding are referred to as “the Progressions” which convey the dynamic nature of language/literacy development.
BCCP templates

Organization of the HLA templates:

• Color coded: HLA templates are in shades of orange
• Common Core Anchor Standard
• Common Core Grade Standard
• Main Academic Demand (MAD)
• Grade Level Academic Demand (GLAD)
• Five Levels of Language/Literacy Development (just like the Language Proficiency levels of the NYSITELL and NYSESLAT)
• Each Literacy Development Level has Listening, Reading, Speaking and Writing activities
• Linguistic Demands and examples of how to meet the demand
The BCCP engage all four Communication modalities

Receptive Domain:

Listening – usually the first point of entry and the stepping stone to gaining information

Reading – allows for a deeper analysis and refining of information

Productive Domain:

Speaking – allows for brainstorming and the clarification of ideas

Writing – can be incorporated while listening, reading and speaking while the actual creation of a text can be done at the end of the cycle
1. Identify what the student is expected to do for each of the language/literacy development levels and communication modalities.

Practice Unpacking an HLA emplate

With your learning group, for your assigned language/literacy development level:

• Identify what the student is expected to do
• Identify what the teacher is expected to do
• Identify the student grouping recommendations
• Underline and list key words that differentiate the task within your assigned proficiency level
• Complete the task identified in the Teacher Directions
Unpacking of a BCCP HLA template

- W – writing
- I – interactive
- R – reading
- L - listening
The three-toed sloth lives in the canopies of the Central and South American rain forests. Though sometimes it can be found sitting in the fork of a tree trunk, the sloth spends most of its life upside down. It clings to a branch with its specially adapted, long, curved claws. Even the sloth's fur is adapted to fit the animal's upside-down lifestyle. The fur grows from its belly toward its backbone, causing rainwater to run off its body as it hangs by all four legs.

Lee & Low Books, leeandlow.com

• Does your book list or collection include books with characters of color?

• Does it include books with a main character of color?

• Does it include books written and/or illustrated by people of color?

• Are there any books with a person of color on the cover?

• Think about your student population. Does your list or collection provide a mix of “mirror” books and “window” books—books in which your students can see themselves reflected and books in which they can learn about others?

• Do you have books featuring characters of color that are not primarily about race and/or prejudice?

• Think about the subject matter of your diverse books. Do your books featuring black characters focus on topics other than slavery? Do your books with Latino characters focus on topics other than immigration?

• Consider your classic books. Do any contain hurtful racial or ethnic stereotypes (e.g. Little House on the Prairie or The Indian in the Cupboard)? Do you know how to address those stereotypes with students? Does your list or collection include other books that provide more accurate depictions of the same groups or cultures?

• Don’t forget about other kinds of diversity? Do you have books featuring LGBTQ characters and characters with disabilities?

• If your answer to any of these questions is No, consider revisiting your classroom library.
Let’s work on a BCCP lesson

We will develop a lesson in Spanish using the Home Language Arts Progressions.

AND

We will develop a lesson in English using the New Language Arts Progressions.

Let’s break up into our respective groups and develop our lessons.

Let’s summarize

• The BCCP address the same standards as the CCLS.
• The BCCP address the development of the five levels of language literacy development in the home language as well as in the new language
• Bilingualism is an ongoing continuum
• The supports for language and content are clearly defined and identified in the BCCP templates
• The four communicative skills (modalities) are addressed in the templates
