The Mitchell Leaska Dissertation Research Award supports the financial needs of doctoral student research as they near completion of their dissertation. A $5,000 stipend will be awarded to one recipient per semester, excluding summer.

Eligibility: Awards are available to students whose doctoral programs are in applied psychology (counseling, developmental, PSI), educational sociology, social studies education, mathematics education, or science education. If you are not enrolled in one of these programs, then you must provide additional justification as to how your research is related to one of these fields. Applicants must also have an approved dissertation proposal and not currently be the recipient of other doctoral funding.

Submit this application and following materials in PDF form to maward@nyu.edu:

- Synopsis of Dissertation Proposal (5 page limit, excluding references, double-spaced)
  - The following sections should be included:
    - Background and Significance
    - Methodology
    - Project Execution, Timeline, and Dissemination
- IRB Approval Letter
- Timeline for completion of dissertation (1 page, single-spaced)
- One letter of support from either your dissertation chair or from one other individual who is not a member of the dissertation committee, but who is familiar with your work
- Budget and Budget Narrative (1 page, single-spaced)

Deadlines: Applications must be submitted no later than October 15 (fall award) and March 1 (spring award).

By signing below, applicant is indicating that they are not a current recipient of NYU or external funding supporting their dissertation research.
