

The Language of

For Secondary ELLs

Description: This Professional Development Institute will focus on teaching strategies and methods that incorporate academic language acquisition with science instruction for English language learners (ELLs) in the secondary classroom. Specifically, this institute will provide guided inquiry activities that model integrated strategies in Inquiry Science and reading, writing, listening, speaking and thinking.

The follow up workshop will provide more in-depth research and instruction in each of the language skills (reading, writing, listening, speaking, and thinking) as they apply to science instruction as well as working with specific populations of ELL students and available programs.
