Date and Time:
Tuesday, February 26, 2008
10:00 AM - 2:00 PM

Presentations

Dr. Alisha Ali, Ph.D., Associate Professor in the Department of Applied Psychology
Fighting the Cycle of Poverty and Depression: Creating Positive Change through Sense of Community

Dr. Lisa Stulberg, Ph.D., Assistant Professor in the Department of Humanities & Social Sciences, and
Ms. Erin Cocke, Doctoral Candidate in Humanities and Social Sciences:
Rethinking 'the Burden of Acting White': Successful African American Students in Successful African American School

Dr. Nicholas Mirzoeff, Ph.D., Professor in the Department of Art and Art Professions
Slavery and Visuality: Research in the Visual Archives

Dr. Charlton McIlwain, Ph.D., Assistant Professor in the Department of Media, Culture, & Communication
Can Entertainment Television Prime Racial Attitudes and Effect Political Decisions: Some Preliminary Results

All projects were funded through the Steinhardt Research Challenge Fund (2006)

Please RSVP at: http://Steinhardt.nyu.edu/research/rsvp